NICK'S PEDAL CORNER

MXR '78 Custom Distortion Pedal When I first heard this pedal announced at the beginning of the year, I could not wait to get my hands on one. Even just from seeing the picture from the MXR announcement, I knew I wanted one. The beautiful metallic red finish just screamed, "Cool!", but we all know that what matters is not just a cool hot-rod finish, but what lies under the hood. Well, I just got these in just the other day, and checked it out immediately. Boy was it worth the wait! This little box goes from all out stack style distortion, to cool, dynamic crunch without ever getting grainy. This pedal was designed to have its full range of gain used. There are no dead or weak stops along the length of the gain control. The tone stack is tuned well, and is very usable, going from dark, and smooth on the low side, to crisp and aggressive on the high.

The "crunch" button adds another dimension of gain and harmonic content that is complex in character, and yet completely usable without getting out of control. This is a distortion that specializes in letting the original tone of your guitar shine though despite the mountains of gain. Clear and powerful, and responds like a boutique amp distortion at a mass-market stomp box price. As with most current production MXR products, it features true hardwire bypass to leave your clean tone unaffected when it's in bypass. There's a new hot rod in town... Come on down and take it for a test drive today!

Zakk Wylde Signature Phase 90 Another pedal that I'd like to let you know about is the Limited edition Zakk Wylde Phase 90. A limited run for 2011, this take on the phase 90 is tailored to Zakk's personal preference, and it's a little bit clearer and deeper phase than a standard Phase 90. This translates beautifully for both clean and distortion, adding depth and dimension! Come on down and check it out; it could be the phaser that you have been waiting for!
